MESSAGE

In this age of growing technology at the highest speed than, ever before, many possibilities of applying innovative practices in every sector have emerged. To grab this opportunity of exploiting the technology for bringing more transparency, availability, efficiency etc. in the area of education is very significant.

The nurturing of the students in terms of their overall personalities has been realized. To ignite the urge to learn along with interest and involvement in the students is the need to be recognized by the academic institutions. In this regard, the innovative initiative of introducing TABLET in the education methodology of teaching learning taken by a commerce and management institution-SEMCOM, deserves to be admired. The availability of the audio-video captured lectures delivered at classrooms, on the tablets or smart phones of the students will be very useful to them to understand the subjects at their will and convenience and with required repetitions. More over the TABLET BANK to be started for economically weaker students to make them avail this facility deserves sincere appreciation.

I extend my congratulation to SEMCOM for its innovative initiative of TABLET in education process and my best wishes for all the success.
